

Git Ready!

Thank you for your interest in Clearvision's Git® training. Delivered by our very own in-house experts, our Git Fundamentals and Git Advanced training courses will take you through everything you need to get started with Git and how it can make teamwork easier and more effective.

There's still some time, though, before your course starts, and we've put together this handy fact sheet, so you can get a taste of Git right now.

Git Is...

...the brainchild of Linus Torvalds, creator of Linux.

...based on a distributed system, which means every developer gets their own local repository.

...open source and distributed under the terms of the GNU General Public License.

...maintained by Junio Hamano, a major contributor to the project.

...fast and scalable, making it ideal for large projects.

...available for Linux, Windows, Mac OS X and Solaris.

...the most widely used VCS in the world.

If you have any questions between now and the day of your course, please do get in touch. Drop us a line at sales@clearvision-cm.com or call us on +44 2381 157 815